

St. Thomas More School of Allentown Diocese Selects ProActive School as its School Data Management Service

For immediate release

Allentown, PA. November 20, 2008. St. Thomas More School announced today that ProActive School (PAS) has been awarded a contract to provide their school with PAS data management services.

The contract provides St. Thomas More with the consolidation of all school information onto one place without purchasing additional hardware, software or telecommunications since the PAS solution integrates with all of the existing school applications data and is a hosted service.

St. Thomas More anticipates resource reallocation from elimination of administrative tasks and applying these resources to direct learning activities by eliminating redundant data entry, avoiding time consuming & expensive operational issues, performing process re-engineering and leveraging integrated notification. With the initial PAS implementation that was accomplish in 3 weeks, St. Thomas More has its school data housed in a secure, off-site hosting environment; single logon via roles-based access for administrators, teachers, parents and students; emergency notification via email, text message, voice and website banners; consolidated student information; integrated calendaring for classes and events; full function attendance; staff information management; school reports repository; and document management capabilities.

ProActive School will also provide on-going professional services and operations support.
